

U. S. HALL TALKS.

The President of the Missouri Farmers' Alliance

Denounces "Tramp" McTune—Thinks Harrison, Boise and Polk Will Lead the Clans of '92—Mistaken for Gould.

Mr. U. S. Hall, president of the Missouri Farmers' Alliance, dropped quietly into Sedalia this morning, and dropped out about as quietly as he came.

He was en route to his home, in Randolph county, from Texas, where he has been on official business for some days.

Being asked by a BAZOO reporter if the farmers of Missouri were in a better condition than they had been reported for the last few years, he replied: "I can't say that they are. But I will say this much, however, that they have a great deal better crops than they have had for years. All over the state a most bountiful harvest is promised. In the northwestern part of the state the rains have injured the wheat a little, but generally speaking, the outlook is promising."

"Is the monetary system now better for the farmer," queried the reporter.

"No; I think not. The monetary outlook for the farmer will only brighten when a change has been made—a change from the present course on administering the affairs of this government."

"Do you think the third party will place a third party ticket in the field for '92?"

"That is not an easy question; they may do so. The chances are that they will, but I do not think the third party, as such, will carry the vote of the alliance."

"Do you think 'Longbeard' Peffer or 'Sackless' Simpson will head the ticket?"

"Oh, no, neither one I am certain. If a man is placed in the field by the third party, my opinion is that L. L. Polk, the president of the National Alliance, will be the man. He is a nice man, but not a very firm one."

"What do you think of Dr. McCune, Mr. Hall?"

"I think he is a dirty, infamous scoundrel of the worst sort, a scheming unprincipled cur, who will ruin the alliance if he is not kicked out. But he will be kicked out of the alliance, and that not very far in the future."

"Whom will the old party's nominate?"

"I think the republicans will renominate Harrison, and it is a complicated, chaotic question as to whom the democrats will place at their mast head, the odds are in favor of Boise."

Mr. Hall was dressed in a Confederate gray with an English derby and patent leather shoes. His shirt bosom was of the most immaculate linen and his necktie was of the latest style.

He breakfasted at Siche's and left in an elegant Pullman palace car for his home at Moberly. Some small boys saw the young looking president of the "horny handed sons of toil," and wanted to know if it was 'Mistah Jay Gould' sah. But, it wasn't, you know.

LOVE LAUGHS AGAIN.

A Couple of Youths United in Wedlock Yesterday in East Sedalia.

"Love Laughs at—age!"

The above quotation varies a little, but is quite appropriate in this case.

Gerd Bunkharst, a gay young fellow of only sixty-five summers took unto himself Mrs. Susan Walker, who was eleven years younger than himself, having seen only fifty-six winters! The marriage ceremony was performed by Justice Fisher in East Sedalia yesterday. The newly married and worthy couple are very well known, and will reside on East Fifth street, where the groom owns property of much value, even into the thousands.

COMMITTEE RETURNS.

J. B. Ross, of Springfield, Mo., L. L. Porter, of Sedalia and Wm. M. Walker, of Marshall, Saline county, composing the committee of the board of directors, of the S. S. & N. Railway, returned this morning from Warsaw, where they have been in the interest of the road.

Mr. Walker stated to a BAZOO reporter that the surveying corps consisted of eighteen men under the command of R. B. McKinnon, of Neosho, Mo. The camp is about four miles southeast of Lincoln, and is making rapid progress. They will be in Sedalia about three weeks.

CENTRAL WILL HAVE A SALOON.

for the first time in three years. Boon county has an open, legally licensed saloon in operation within her borders. It is located in Centralia and G. D. Phillips and O. J. Wilson will conduct it.

There was a bitter fight in the county court Tuesday over the petition for license. J. L. Stephens and C. B. Sebastian appeared for the petitioners while J. H. Cupp was attorney for those who remonstrated against the granting of a license. P. J. Barron, R. L. Hope, C. J. Settles and H. C. Threlked, city fathers, were on hand to give testimony. C. M. Pape, R. D. Poage and T. S. Sneed were also present, interested in the case. There 139 names on the petition for a saloon and about 20 to the remonstrance. After hearing evidence argument the court Wednesday morning granted the license. The license tax was fixed at $56 for state purposes for six months and $300 for the county. J. H. Cupp gave notice of an appeal to the circuit court.

Centralia has been without an open saloon since 1887. There has been none in Columbia since 1888, when the local option law, by vote of the people, was made operative. Columbia voted "dry" but the remainder of the county went "wet."—Columbia Herald.

THE DAVIS CASE.

Some New and Startling Developments at Moberly.

This morning the Democrat learns from a reliable source that some boys who were in swimming in the tank pond made a discovery that will probably have great bearing in the Davis case, when it comes up in the circuit court, says yesterday's Moberly Democrat.

The boys whose names could not be learned, were in bathing and concluded to search near the spot where the baby was found. One of the boys discovered a stake about 26 inches long driven about a foot and a half in the bottom of the pond, fastened to the stake, were portions of the baby's clothes. The clothes were tied to the stake by a strip of cloth evidently torn from a woman's dress, it was about four feet long and of black material. It is thought that the body was first tied to the stake and the stake then driven in the ground, and that in using the rake, the boys broke the string holding it. B. H. Mrs. Davis and Ed are now confined in the Huntsville jail. Mrs. Davis has never shown any emotion in the matter until Sheriff Dameron went to take a description of her. On being told to stand up so that her height could be taken, she burst into tears. This is the first time she has seemed to be in any way affected. It is expected that evidence of guilt will be even more conclusive, before the officers have finished. Mayor Ragsdale and Chief of Police Lyuch deserve great commendation for their untiring efforts to bring the perpetrators of this foul deed to justice.

STARTLING FACTS.

The American people are fast becoming nervous wreck, and the following suggests the best remedy: Alphonso Hemling, of Butler, Pa., swears that when his son was speckless from St. Vitus dance, Dr. Miles' great Restorative Nerve cured him. Mrs. J. R. Miller, of Valparaiso, and J. D. Taylor, of Logansport, Indiana, each gained 20 pounds from taking it. Mrs. A. A. Gardner, of Vistula, Ind., was cured of 40 to 50 convulsions a day, and much headache, dizziness, backache and nervous prostration by one bottle. Trial bottles and fine book of marvelous cures, free at A. T. Fleischmann's who recommends and guarantees this unequalled remedy.

DEATH OF FORREST WARFORD.

Forrest Josephine, the beautiful and winsome little fifteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Warford, died at 2 o'clock yesterday morning at the family residence No. 1407 Harrison avenue, of cholera infantum. Little Forrest was sick only a little over a week and her death is a terrible blow to her parents, whose idol she was. For her age she was an unusually intelligent child and her bright and lovable ways had endeared her not only to her own people but to all in the neighborhood. The funeral services were held at her late home yesterday evening at four o'clock, Revs. Fuller and Cowan officiating, and were largely attended. The floral tributes were particularly beautiful and a large number of sympathizing friends followed all that was earthly of little Forrest to the cemetery.

Ah, there the toys that she loved will stand
Each in the same old place,
Awaiting the touch of the little hand,
The smile of the little face.
But she is dreaming an angel song,
Her head on the Savior's breast,
And never more tho' the years be long
Will she come from that peaceful rest

MISSOURI'S FRUIT CROP.

This morning S. L. Wetherell of Ste. Genevieve county arrived in the city and registered at the Lindell. Mr. Wetherell is a large fruit grower and has long acted as agent for many of the farmers of Southern and Central Missouri. "The fruit season of 1891 will be the best that has ever been known for the last five years," he said, "and every one who has an orchard or a vineyard is sure of making money. I have been all over the state south of the Missouri river, and never have seen the fruit crop looking so well. There have been years in which individual crops were larger, but in my recollection none in which the average was so high. Every line is doing excellently. The peach crop will be in all probability the largest on record, the apple crop will come very near touching the top notch, while the grape crop will be the largest for eight years. In grain of all kinds the showing will be equally good, and in wheat the grade will be far above the average, as the rains have not toughened the berries to any extent, as it was feared that they would. Taken altogether, the farmers have better prospects than they have had for a long time."—Post-Dispatch.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

James Dillard, an Old Resident of Pettis County, Meets a Sudden Death Last Night.

John Dillard, a farmer residing eight miles north of Sedalia, in the vicinity of Thornleigh, was killed by lightning last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillard were milking in the barn yard about sundown last night when Mr. Dillard was struck by a bolt of lightning in the back of the head, burning the hair off one side of his head and tearing his clothes completely from his body.

Mrs. Dillard who was with him at the time, was also struck in the face and now lies in a critical condition at her home.

Mr. Dillard is an old resident of Missouri, being 51 years of age and born in Cooper, in 1840. He moved to Pettis county just before the war, and at the outbreak, joined and served in Les Smith's company, Woods' Battalion, of Gen. Marmaduke's command.

He was married to a daughter of John Ellis, who lives ten miles north of Sedalia and leaves a wife and six children.

The funeral took place at two o'clock this evening from the High Point church near Thornleigh.

Mr. Dillard was well known in Sedalia and his many friends will be grieved at their loss.

WHO IS THE DRUMMER?

There are various kinds of amusements suited to all and one of the most good humored crowds that has ever congregated was at Deepwater the Fourth. Every one seemed to enjoy themselves and all went merry until time for the fireworks when they failed. It seemed to make the crowd mad and not without cause. The citizens and business men of Deepwater subscribed liberally for fireworks and the committee, in fact every one supposed they would be here, but were disappointed and the failure all rests upon a Sedalia drummer, who contracted to furnish some thing that his house did not carry and then wrote a card saying that he had telegraphed to St. Louis and they would be here in time, and you all know they failed. The fact is, the drummer did wrong in taking the order and then fooling his customers and friends. I imagine he will not meet with a very warm reception when he returns. Outside of the fireworks failure the celebration was a success.—Deepwater Citizen.

AN UNFAITHFUL WOMAN.

Runs Away From Her Home and Hides About Town.

Mrs. Sallie Crowley Giving Her Husband Trouble—Her Mother is Interviewed—Friends of the Woman Had Better "Look A Little Out."

Another unfaithful woman. This time of the worst sort, too.

The above is very applicable to Mrs. Sallie Crowley, nee Christian, who according to the story of her mother is now but sixteen and what is still stranger it is alleged that Sallie has been a wife for the last three years. This would make her out to have married at the unusual age of 13 years!

For some months Sallie has been showing signs of being tired of her husband, and for the last few weeks has shown her dislike of him by eloping and keeping herself concealed in various parts of the city.

A BAZOO reporter called upon Mrs. S. S. Christian, corner of Seventh and Brown streets, and here is her story: "Mr. Lee Crowley is my son-in-law. He is an honest, hard working boy and if there ever was a thing to mar his good name I never heard it. He married my only daughter, Sallie, she was only thirteen years old, and I told him that it would be a failure. Nothing would do, how ever, but that they be married."

"They lived here with me for three years, and Lee was just as good as he could be to Sallie."

About three weeks ago they moved to Kansas City. The husband failed to get work there and wanted to come back to Sedalia where he was known, Sallie told him she would not live with him if he came back here. He thought she was only joking, and came on. He wired her to come, giving his street and number, but she paid no attention to the street and number given.

When she got off the train she went direct to the house of —, and has been around to a dozen other places, dodging her husband and those who have been hunting her down."

For certain reasons the names of those who thus shielded the woman are not given this time but if any other aid is given her, the names and addresses will be given without hesitation.

It is also charged by one who ought to know, that a well known Main street restauranter has been paying attention to the foolish young woman ever since she alighted from the cars as before stated.

Sallie Crowley is said to be a pretty girl, with flowing hair and deep blue eyes and her poor old mother told her checkered history to the reporter this morning with streams of tears gushing from her eyes. She also stated that the Main street "grub-dealer," has been trying to ruin her daughter ever since she was married by making her dislike her husband.

A WONDER WORKER

Mr. Frank Huffman, a young man of Burlington, Ohio, states that he had been under the care of two prominent physicians, and used their treatment until he was not able to get around. They pronounced his case to be Consumption and incurable. He was persuaded to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds and at that time was not able to walk across the street without resting. He found, before he had used half of a dollar bottle, that he was much better; he continued to use it and is today enjoying good health. If you have any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble try it. We guarantee satisfaction. Trial bottle free at Mertz & Hale's drug store.

PETTIS TO THE FRONT.

Chas. Greene, an engineer on the M., K. & T., is possessed of a very fine farm three miles southeast of Sedalia. The farm is in a very fine location and its productions speak well of Pettis county. The products this season consisted of 800 bushels of oats, 30 tons of hay and 800 bushels of corn, together with a fine peach crop.

A REMARKABLE CAREER.

Preacher, Printer, Tramp and Trickster.

The St. Louis Republic of this morning contains the following:

Shelby Hughes was arrested yesterday by Detectives Archambeault and Tracy. He is wanted in Benton Franklin county, on a charge of assault to kill, and will be taken there to day. There are also supposed to be a charge of bigamy and one of forgery against him, the latter at Mount Vernon, Ill.

Hughes' career has been a strange one. When a boy of 15 years he left school, scarcely able to read or write. He secured a position as printer's devil for a country newspaper. After having become a journeyman printer his roving spirit manifested itself, and for eight years he drifted about the country, working first here and then there. In Kansas he studied law and was admitted to the bar. In another State he taught school for awhile and in others he fell back to typesetting. While drifting about from one place to another, he took to drink. Finally he determined to study for the ministry. A year of close attention to his books fitted him for this new calling. He stopped drinking and for a time traveled about in Illinois preaching the doctrines of the Methodist Church. While in Mount Vernon, Ill., a charge of immoral conduct was preferred against him for using harsh language in the pulpit. He claims he was vindicated, but rather than again face the inhabitants of that place he left, drifting to Ardmore, I. T. There by the aid of letters of recommendation, which he is charged with forging, he managed to obtain charge of a church. Several months later his roving disposition again got the best of him, and he drifted into Sedalia, Mo. A position as reporter on the BAZOO was secured.

On the night of April 15 last he married Miss Laura Bomgesser of this city whose parents live at 1415 Carroll street. There he made an application for the pastorate of a new Congregational church just being erected. The position would have been secured had not a prominent member of the committee erasing the edifice received a letter from Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Mount Vernon, charging Hughes with having forged letters of recommendation which had secured him various positions. To add to his trouble the contents of the letter became known to his wife, and after married life of about two weeks she left him. She is now stopping with friends in Jacksonville, Ill. From Sedalia Hughes drifted to St. Louis, stopping at various small towns on the way. Here he secured a position with a weekly paper, and commenced the study of medicine with the intention of becoming a physician. Admission was secured in a local medical institution and had he not been arrested he would have obtained a diploma in a year.

Hughes is a confirmed opium and morphine victim, having contracted the habit four years ago after he ceased drinking. While in his cell yesterday he pleaded piteously that the drug be given him, but no attention was paid to the pleadings.

According to his own statement Hughes had four wives and was accused of having a fifth, but denied that allegation. All are dead or legally divorced, he says with the exception of the last. One when he married her was twenty-eight years his senior. He thought she was rich, but the mistake was discovered several days later and separation followed. Another woman whom he was accused of having married and who is still living is a Blanche Willard of Milwaukee. The prisoner, however, claims that she was only his mistress while he was in the latter place for a period of six months.

The prisoner claims to be well up in literature, and says that he can converse freely in eight languages, all of which, together with his other knowledge he mastered while drifting about. He is willing to return to any place he is wanted without requisition.
